

The Resource Directory

A project of the
Seminole County Child Abuse Prevention Task Force

In cooperation with the Children's Cabinet of Seminole County and the agencies and organizations providing programs and assistance to the residents of Seminole County

Electronic edition revised 2017

The Seminole County Resource Directory lists local, state and national resources as they relate to the specific needs of families.

Feel free to copy and distribute this publication as needed.

Additional bound copies may be obtained through The Child Abuse Prevention Task Force, also known as CAPTF. Additional electronic copies can be downloaded at www.seminolechildren.org or www.seminolepreventioncoalition.org

If you would like to place an ad in the directory or have any questions, please email SeminoleCountyCAPTF@gmail.com

(This website provides information on how to report abuse online, via fax, reporting in Spanish & Creole, and TDD. There are also FAQ's and additional resources, such as definitions of abuse/neglect.)

This directory is intended to provide a comprehensive listing of programs and services available to Seminole County families. Our goal is to enable families to have the knowledge and tools necessary to receive the services that meet their individual needs. Some of the information contained within the directory may not be supported in full by the individual member agencies. Although CAPTF has made every attempt to verify the information contained within this directory, they are neither responsible for inaccuracies, acts nor consequences resulting from errors or omission.

The silent suffering of parents abused by their child is a serious and often hidden issue within families. These acts harmfully impact the youth and family's ability to function together causing verbal, physical, psychological/emotional, and/or financial distress. Our current work brings healing to families suffering from parental abuse by children and equips parents, juvenile justice and child welfare agencies with research-based practices that provide results. Ultimately, our innovative approach transforms lives of those who once feared for their safety.
